How to File Your Appeal

1. Visit MyTax.DC.gov to file your First Level Administrative Review Application for property tax appeal electronically.
2. Complete the First Level Administrative Review Application form, including your property's Square, Suffix, and Lot (SSL) number and supporting evidence such as recent appraisals, comparable sales data, or property condition documentation.
3. Submit all supporting documentation with your appeal, including photographs, settlement statements, sales data, and any other evidence that demonstrates your property's correct market value.
4. Wait for the Office of Tax and Revenue to review your appeal and issue a Notice of First-Level Appeal Decision, which typically takes several weeks.
5. If denied at first level, file an appeal with the Real Property Tax Appeals Commission (RPTAC) within 45 days of receiving your administrative appeal decision notice through MyTax.DC.gov.
6. Choose your hearing type (in-person, telephone, or written record review) and submit all evidence when filing, as the Commission only considers evidence submitted at time of filing.
7. For questions about assessments or appeals, contact the Office of Tax and Revenue Customer Service Center for assistance with your property tax appeal.

If You're Called to a Hearing

Bring your Evidence Packet. You'll have 2–3 minutes to make your case. Keep it simple and focus on the comparable sales:

> "Thank you for hearing my appeal. My property at 226 55Th St Ne is currently appraised by the county at $393,830. However, I've gathered 10 recent sales of similar homes in the area. The 25th percentile price per square foot of these comparable properties is $183. Applied to my home's 1,476 square feet, this supports a market value of approximately $270,347. I've included addresses, sale prices, and details for each comparable in my evidence packet. I respectfully request the Board adjust my assessment to reflect actual market conditions."

Tips: Be polite and factual. Focus only on whether your property's value is correct compared to similar homes that recently sold.

Note: Filing requirements may change. We recommend confirming all deadlines, forms, and contact information with your county assessor's office before submitting your appeal.
