How to File Your Appeal

1. Online - We now have the capability to accept appeal forms and supporting evidence electronically. When you click this link, you will be directed to the Clerk of the Board online appeal portal.

2. All appeals to the Salt Lake County Board of Equalization (BOE) must include: The appeal form filled out completely; all evidence and documentation attached and submitted with the initial appeal filing on this form; and the required signatures of the applicant of the property. All evidence must be submitted at the time of appeal filing and must support the value as of January 1 of the tax year under appeal. Appeals filed without sufficient evidence may be dismissed.

3. The sale of comparable properties within one year of January 1. Minimum of three (3) is required but up to five comparable properties should be submitted to support your valuation claim, with sales between July 1 of the prior year and April 1 of the current year given greatest consideration.

4. If you need help filing your appeal or have questions about the process, contact the Salt Lake County Auditor's Property Tax Division at (385) 468-7200 or email propertytaxappeals@saltlakecounty.gov for assistance with filing requirements and procedures.

5. Mail - download appeal form (You must download it to your computer and open it in Acrobat Reader to fill and sign this document) In person to the Clerk of the Board of Equalization/Auditor's Office 2001 South State Street #N3-300/P.O. Box 144575 Salt Lake City, UT 84114-4575.

6. During the Board of Equalization the Salt Lake County Auditor's Office will schedule your appeal for a hearing and provide you notice of the time, date, and location where the hearing will take place. Council Tax Administration screens submitted documentation for sufficient evidence. If necessary, taxpayer receives notification that more evidence is needed (also known as an "intent to dismiss")

7. An officer of Salt Lake County Tax Administration will be scheduled to conduct the hearing, take oral testimony should you appear, review all evidence of market value submitted by you and the Assessor's Office, and make a recommendation of market value on your property. The hearing is informal. You will have an opportunity to discuss and explain your evidence, and the county assessor's representative will have an opportunity to discuss and explain how the county arrived at the market value.

8. All final decisions of the Salt Lake County Board of Equalization can be appealed to the Utah State Tax Commission following their administrative rules. With in 30 days from receipt of a County decision, all Board of Equalization decisions can be appealed to the State Tax Commission. To file this appeal, complete the TC-194 form and submit it to the Clerk of the Board of Equalization (Auditor) and the complete file will be forwarded to the State Tax Commission.

Reason for Appeal	Request for review of assessed value

If You're Called to a Hearing

You'll have 2–3 minutes to make your case. Bring any supporting documents — appraisals, contractor estimates, or photos of your property's condition:

> "Thank you for hearing my request. I'd like to request a review of my property's assessed value at 14747 S Draper Pointe Way, currently appraised at $35,338,500. I believe the current assessment may not reflect my property's condition and current market conditions in this area. Comparable sales data for properties like mine is limited, which means both this assessment and any market estimate carry significant uncertainty. I've brought supporting documentation for the Board's review and respectfully request that my assessment be reconsidered."

Tips: Be polite and factual. If you have a recent appraisal, contractor estimate, or photos showing property condition issues, present them. Focus on why the assessed value may not reflect your property's actual condition and market.

Note: Filing requirements may change. We recommend confirming all deadlines, forms, and contact information with your county assessor's office before submitting your appeal.
